currently nonstandard analysis is barely considered in university teaching the author argues that nonstandard analysis is valuable not only for teaching but also for understanding standard analysis and mathematics itself an axiomatic approach wich pays attention to different language levels for example in the distinction between sums of ones and the natural numbers of the theory leads naturally to a nonstandard theory for motivation historical ideas of leibniz can be taken up the book contains an elaborated concept that follows this approach and is suitable for example as a basis for a lecture supplementary course the monograph part presents all major approaches to nonstandard analysis and discusses logical model theoretic and set theoretic investigations to reveal possible mathematical reasons that may lead to reservations about nonstandard analysis also various foundational positions as well as ontological epistemological and application related issues are addressed it turns out that the one sided preference for standard analysis is justified neither from a didactic mathematical nor philosophical point of view thus the book is especially valuable for students and instructors of analysis who are also interested in the foundations of their subject many people whether educators or not will agree that an education that does not inspire wonder is barren wonder is commonly perceived as akin to curiosity as stimulating inquiry and as something that enhances pleasure in learning but there are many experiences of wonder that do not have an obvious place in education in wonder and education anders schinkel theorises a kind of wonder with less obvious yet fundamental educational importance which he calls contemplative wonder contemplative wonder disrupts frameworks of understanding that are taken for granted and perceived as natural and draws our attention to the world behind our constructions sparking our interest in the world as something worth attending to for its own sake rather than for our purposes it opens up space for the consideration of radical alternatives wherever it occurs and in many cases is linked with deep experiences of value therefore it is not just important for education in general but also more specifically for moral and political education
